

DataSea announces and executes 5G Messaging Service Agreements with three more new clients

DataSea Inc., (NASDAQ: DTSS) ("DataSea" or the "Company"), incorporated in Nevada in September 2014, is a digital technology corporation engaged in three converging and innovative business segments: 5G messaging, acoustic intelligence, and smart city technology in China. Today, the Company announced that, Shuhai Information Technology Co., Ltd. ("Shuhai Beijing"), the Chinese operating company contractually controlled by the Company, along with its subsidiaries, have entered into cooperation agreements with three new clients, Qingdao Hongxin Times Network Technology Co. LTD ("Qingdao Hongxin"), Guangzhou Woshuai Auto Accessories Co., LTD ("Guangzhou Woshuai") and Xiamen Tongjing Intelligent Technology Co. LTD ("Xiamen Tongjing"), to enhance 5G messaging top-up services for a wider range of clients in more industries for the Chinese market.

Under those agreements, Qingdao Hongxin, Guangzhou Woshuai and Xiamen Tongjing can purchase 5G message charge virtual recharge cards of various denominations from ¥10 to ¥500 RMB (from $1.38 to $69.4) within 12 months after the signing of the contract. Since the date of those agreements until the date of this announcement, Shuhai Beijing and its subsidiaries have provided 5G messaging top-up services worth approximately USD 0.73 million (RMB 5,259,393).

Qingdao Hongxin, Guangzhou Woshuai and Xiamen Tongjing serve different end customers in the fields of Internet, automotive supplies services and intelligent hardware, and their users are spread across multiple regions in China. In addition, Shuhai Beijing and its subsidiaries also provide those clients 5G messaging top-up plans, data interfaces, and a 5G messaging top-up payment platform for top-up services and related management.

“The continuous increase in the number of signed clients of our 5G top-up business shows that the demand for 5G messaging services in the Chinese market continues to increase”, said DataSea's CEO, Zhixin Liu. “It also proves that DataSea's ability to provide top-tier services to businesses at scale is a testament to its commitment to delivering efficient and customized recharge services to its clients.”
